

Chesa Puntschella, Pontresina

Master bathroom

The „Puntschella“ project comprises four properties that house exclusive residential units. Located in the historical mountain village of Pontresina in Engadin/Switzerland, the houses blend harmoniously with the surrounding alpine landscape. The project placed considerable focus on tranquility, nature and well-being. This is also reflected in the character of this attic apartment. Large, light rooms, where design and functionality complement each other perfectly, offer panoramic views over the Pontresina mountains. The high quality of living runs through the entire property, including the bathroom. For the drain in the shower area, the developers opted for CeraWall Select, a premium shower channel for wall installation. With its slim and minimalist design, the metal rail is discreet while at the same time striking, thanks to its great precision.
