

Chesa Puntschella, Pontresina

Holiday apartment

A side valley of the Upper Engadin in Switzerland is the location of the four „Puntschella“ houses, with their exclusive freehold apartments. The clever offset arrangement of the properties in this project has the advantage that they all have a guaranteed alpine view of the mountain range. The classic architecture of the houses ensures that they blend harmoniously with the surrounding landscape. In this attic apartment, the large window surfaces further enhance the openness of the rooms, which have been fitted with natural materials to create an ambience that is both homely and luxurious. The comfort of the bathroom naturally includes a level-access shower, fitted with a CeraWall Individual shower channel. Large format tiles enable a more seamless installation.
