

Detached house Bad Godesberg, Guest bathroom

Product: Floor drain TistoStone

Project: Detached house
Location: Bad Godesberg, Germany
Architecture: VSBL, Belgrad/Bonn
Year: 2016

The structural restoration and restructuring of a small detached house built in 1900 in Bad Godesberg proved worthwhile: today it is modern, open and flooded with light.

Above all, the required construction measures have considerably increased the residential value of the property. Now reserved for guests, the former shower room on the ground floor has been decorated with a light-grey 5 x 5 cm mosaic that covers the walls and floor, creating a harmonious and uniform look. The tileable cover of the TistoStone shower channel fits seamlessly into the shower area, thus complementing this look.
