Product: Shower channel CeraWall Individual

Project: PHOENIX Lake Residences
Location: Dortmund, Germany
Architecture: S|2 ImmobilienProjekt
Year: 2015

With a view of the „Florian tower“ and the lake, the residences at PHOENIX Lake are a great place to live. The slim television tower dominates the Dortmund skyline and captures the attention of the residents of these new living quarters in the Hörde district. This urban development project for living, working and recreation has been built on the site of a former steel works – with the newly created lake at its heart. On the south-facing slope stand two buildings with distinctive linearity and high-quality fittings that extend to the bathroom. The CeraWall Individual shower channel is the perfect match for the geometry of the level-access shower – virtually invisible and extremely easy to clean. This is linear drainage in its purest form.
